

Jaimie Hutchison is a leader in personal and workplace wellness education, focusing on program management, resource referral, program development, outreach and education, consultations, career transitions, work-life fit, and community connections.

Jaimie holds a BA in Psychology from Michigan State University, a MA in Community Counseling from the University of Northern Colorado, and a Post Masters Certificate in School Counseling from Eastern Michigan University. She is a licensed professional counselor (LPC) and licensed school counselor (SCL) in the state of Michigan and holds a Global Career Development Facilitator (GCDF) certification. Jaimie is proud to have volunteered over 10,000 hours in her communities.